DOG SHOW OPENS WITH BLUE BLOODED ANIMALS ON BENCH

With so many thousands of dollars worth of dogs present, that it is almost impossible to believe it, the second annual show of the Arizona Kennel club will open this morning at 10 o'clock. There are about 150 of the best dogs ever seen in Arizona present.

Anita M. Baldwin will arrive this morning with dogs valued at $20,000. She has one of the best bulldogs ever exhibited anywhere, and it is expected that she will carry off several ribbons. H. M. Robinson, another well known dog fancier will also be in the show. Top Pekines and poodles, Mrs. R. C. Shute of Los Angeles, has also entered a number of Japanese dogs said to be worth their weight in gold.

M. J. Murphy of Phoenix, is entering his entire kennel of highly bred and prize winning bull dogs, and expects to be rewarded with many ribbons if highly tinted ribbons. The army where the show is being held has been especially decorated for the occasion. This Shute-worth of Sierra Madre, is doing all the judging of the valuable animals. The show will continue until Thursday night.

News And Comment
Of The High School
By Louis Hart

There will be an assembly sometime this morning. The pupils will be given an interesting lecture. Half of the fellows worry little about what is going to happen in the assembly so long as they have one.

An interesting debate was held yesterday in the first hour English class. The question was "Resolved that a compulsory law should be enacted by congress to settle all labor disputes. The negative won an easy victory."

Another assembly will be held Wednesday morning. The popular lecturer, Dr. S. E. Lynd, will talk to the pupils. His interesting lecture on the exposition, brings him to Phoenix High school highly recommended. It will be something to which we may look forward. A small admission fee will be charged.

The university special will pull out of the city at 4 o'clock in the afternoon a week from today.

University Week is certainly taking all the study out of the fellows. When it is over, hard study for graduation will be the main occupation of all. But the dim whistle of the Special is heard in every ear.

GUISTO IS CALLED EQUAL OF LAJOIE

Louis Guisto.

Big of bone and muscle, moving in the field with the easy grace of Napoleon Lajoie and taking a long, free and easy swing at the bat like Lajoie, Louis Guisto, recruit with the Cleveland Indians, has led one conservative American leaguer to assert: "For a dozen years I've been awaiting the day when another player of the Lajoie type would appear in the majors. Guisto is the one."

One on His Honor

A police magistrate in Cleveland was disposing of cases at the rate of about two a minute, with great exactness and dignity, being judge, jury, and attorney, all in one.

"Then you are sure you recognize this linen coat as the one stolen from you?" he said to a complainant.

"Yes, your Honor."

"How do you know it is yours?"

"You can see that it is of a peculiar make, your Honor," replied the witness. "That is the way I know it."

"Are you aware, sir," shouted the justice, turning to a crowd back of him and producing a similar coat, "that there are others like it?"

"Indeed I am," replied the witness, still more placidly. "I had two stolen."

RECRUITING IS ON INCREASE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—Returns today from recruiting stations showed big gains. During March the army gained 6,733 men, and while declining to go into details, war department officials said the total strength was nearing the authorized peace maximum of 120,000. The daily returns to the navy department showed that today had set a new record with 172 applicants accepted.

Another indication of the government's preparations for a large army was evidenced today in the announcement that the old Fort Ringgold military reservation in Texas had been restored to the war department for military purposes. Since 1911 it has been under control of the interior department. It is assumed the transfer was made to provide training space.

DEMOCRATS IN CONTROL NAME CLARK SPEAKER

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The democrats, with the aid of four of the five independents, organized the house when the new congress assembled today, re-electing Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, and sweeping into office with him all the other democratic caucus nominees.

Mr. Clark received 217 votes against 295 for Representative Mann, the republican choice for speaker, who not only failed to receive an independent vote, but lost the support of five of his party colleagues.

All the democrats present voted for Mr. Clark, and were joined by Schall, progressive of Minnesota; Martha, over-seer of Louisiana; London, socialist of New York; and Randall prohibitionist of California. The five republicans who did not support Mr. Mann were Gardner of Massachusetts, who voted for Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin; Gray of New Jersey, and Dallinger of Massachusetts, who voted for Gillett of Massachusetts, and Haskell of New York and James of Michigan, who voted present.

Representative Fuller, independent of Massachusetts, voted for Mr. Lenroot.

Calling of the roll was replete with outbursts of applause, but the lion's share went to Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, a republican, and the first woman to be elected to the house. She was given three separate ovations, once when she entered the chamber on the arm of her colleague, Representative Evans of Montana, again when she responded to the call of members, and a third time when she voted for Mr. Mann. She was forced once to rise and bow before the applause could be checked. She was on the floor the greater part of the day, dressed plainly in a dark dress with a white collar, and carrying a bunch of flowers.

An effort by Representative Mann to prevent adoption of the rules which governed the last congress were futile. Representative Fox of North Carolina, nominated by the democrats for head of the rules committee, announced, however, that the committee would gladly consider proposed amendments at any future time.

In the organization of committees the house followed out the selections made by democratic leaders. Although half a dozen chairmanships went to northern democrats, Representative Gallivan, democrat of Massachusetts, who has persistently protested against southern domination of chairmanships, voted against the slate.

SENATORIAL COMMENT

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Some of the comment of senators on the president's address follows:

SENATOR HITCHCOCK, democrat, Nebraska: "The president's address presents a masterly review of recent events which have combined to force war upon the United States. I have been opposed to war and have done what I could to avert it. War is now inevitable and the only question is whether the country will go into it strong and united or divided and crippled. Under these circumstances I must stand for strength and unity."

SENATOR LODGE, republican, Massachusetts: "I will tell you what I told the president when he concluded his address and that is that I thought he was fully in the right of the great argument."

SENATOR BRANDEGEE, republican, Connecticut: "It was a magnificent address. The people will endorse it and I will do everything I can to back it up."

SENATOR SAULSBURY, democrat, Delaware, president pro tempore of the senate: "The president's address was right in line with my own feeling and belief."

SENATOR SMOOT, republican floor leader: "It was very clearly put—a splendid business. There was no doubt what the president had in mind. It will meet with the approval of the American people."

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN, democrat of Oregon, chairman of the military committee: "It was a magnificent message. It was forceful and to the point, and, in my opinion, expresses the feeling of the great mass of the American people."

Nine of the twelve senators who opposed the armed neutrality bill in the last congress had any comment to make.

LITTLE OF WAR TIME ENTHUSIASM

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

NEW YORK, April 2.—While there were few scenes of war time enthusiasm in the accepted sense of the term, in New York tonight there was no lack of patriotism. Groups seemed imbued with an earnest determination to help the government "carry it through." Newspaper bulletin boards were surrounded by throngs of silent men and women. They appeared in no mood for cheers, evidently feeling the crisis was too grave for that. The president's address apparently was what they had expected.

When extra editions of the evening newspapers gave the news that congress had been called upon to act, orchestras in hotels, restaurants and cabarets swung into the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" while men and women patrons joined in singing the anthem.

The streets were crowded. Soap box orators preached patriotism and apparently no pacifists were abroad or they did not venture to raise their voices.
